* A ROUND OF TALK. *

Twilight on the Farm.

The dew comes down, and shadows gather in the field and lane; Low in the west a band of black gives promise unto rain. It is the twilight hour, and, given over to calm and rest; It brings to home a benediction and is a bles.

The boys come in and bathe their faces at the cooling well; After the meal, and sweet tinkles the heat cow's bell; It is the twilight hour, and stars are starting from the deep. High heaven's heralds sent to watch that men may sleep.

The father comes, a man of many years of toil and care, Who smiles to see the candle in the same window there; It is the twilight hour, and, with the farm work amply done, He feels a poor man's joy to think the food is won.

Then all sit down to eat; the evening meal, and far away A wagon comes, the neighbor's horses whoches what? It is the twilight hour, and, free from day's unending quest, It brings to home a benediction and is a bles.

STILL ADVANCING—Real estate in Springfield still advances and the demand for houses from both buyers and sellers continues strong notwithstanding the prediction of pessimists who have been predicting a halt in the advance. The other day for $1500 having been purchased only a few months before for $1150 is but one example. There has scarcely been a time in years when there has been a vacant residence in town for any length of time. By the way quite a number of small residences are to be built this fall, of which we hear, will doubtless be easily and quickly rented.

District After Eating Cured.

Judge W. T. Holland, of Greensburg, La., who is well and favorably known, says: "Two years ago I suffered greatly from indigestion, dyspepsia or other stomach trouble, but find that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. This remedy is a never failing cure for Indigestion and Dyspepsia and all complaints affecting the glands or membranes of the stomach or digestive tract. When you take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure everything you eat tastes good, and every bit of the garment that your food comes in is assimilated and appropriated by the blood and tissues. Sold by C. J. Haydon."

Several years ago Mr. Dalmaz so bought a portion of the Simmons' tract and the farm purchased from Mr. Cartmell is more than half of the original tract which is now owned by Mr. Dalmaz.—Kentucky Standard.

A Summer Fairyland.

To those who are planning a summer outing and seeking "green fields and pastures before us," there is no place where they may cast aside and commune with primitive nature, where, tho' the sun shines ever brightly, cooling breezes always blow, and great heat is unknown, it is safely promised that among the rocks and lakes of the Muskoka district about 100 miles north of Toronto situated in the Highlands of Ontario, (1000 feet above sea level), they will find enchantment.

Handsome, illustrated descriptive publications will be sent free to any address upon application to R. M. C. Smith; Southern Passenger Agent, Grand Trunk Railway, Woodward ave, Detroit 6 C. J. Haydon.

The Genuine vs. Counterfeits.

This genuine is always better than a counterfeited. The genuine is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market.

W. S. Lebeder, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me."

For inland blisters, itching and trading piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by C. J. Haydon.

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record for a medicine for over 20 years, during which time over 5 million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the first symptoms appear, it will stop the coughing fit, and when once stopped will prevent the attack. To whom the remedy will be paid is not yet known; they have been as well known as were the historic thirty pieces of silver.

Power was guilty of bringing the mountain men to Frankfort; there was no causal connection between this and the assassination of Goebel. We believe he was innocent of complicity in that crime; but his connection with the gang that has been used as a pretense for his conviction of the crime. To whom the reward will be paid is not yet known; they have been as well known as were the historic thirty pieces of silver.

On the floor of the House of Representatives by a single sentence Gen. Butler destroyed the public career and drove into painful exile an eloquent and much applauded counsel and politician Gen. Bingham: "I decline to yield to him who compassed the murder of an innocent man." It may be that in the not remote future in the face of some ambitious participant in the prosecution of Caleb Powers a similar retort will ring.

Aged Physician Dead.

Jas. W. Hill died at his home here at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning after several weeks' illness of disease incident to old age. Dr. Hill was aged 75 years and one of the oldest and most esteemed physicians in the city.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

CHAPTER 50.

An act to provide for an amendment to Section 181 of the Constitution of Kentucky.

The General Assembly may, by general law only, authorize CITIES OR TOWNS OF ANY CLASS to provide for taxation for municipal purposes, in particular, but not exclusively, taxes on income, licenses or franchises, in lieu of an ad valorem tax thereon;

Provided, that cities of the first class shall not be authorized to enact the imposition of an ad valorem tax on such property of any steam railroad, street railway, ferry, bridge, gas, water, heating, telephone, telegraph, electric light or electric power company.

A MAN OF MYSTERY.

Practical Life of Metastasio, the Celebrated Dramatic and Poetic Peer, spent fifty years in Vienna with the Martini family without ever learning German or writing a word of it.

Besides his utter indifference to all speech but Italian, Metastasio possessed many peculiarities of character. None might mention death in his presence, nor could he bear to have any reference made before him that he made it a point not to see again. In all his fifty-five years in Vienna he never gave away more than a few hundred dollars to the poor. He never received a single invitation to a feast at a church, but never paid for it. He took all his meals in the most mysterious privacy; his greatest friends had never seen him eat anything but a simple meal, and he never invited anyone who would induce him to dine away from home. He never changed his coat, nor the cut or color of his coat.

Metastasio was a man present to the public eye the day he died and raved about the intended interview in the delirium of his last moments. Mrs. Flond (familiar to readers of Bowles' "Life of Johnson" as Mrs. Thrale) collected these particulars from the diaries of the Martini family, with whom Metastasio was so long domesticated without speaking a word of understanding a word of their language from first to last.

THE MAN AND HIS DOG.

"When you see the never more languish straight up and down, lookin' sort of sour like, you're not goin' to have rain for at least two-thirds of the moon," said an old observer. "When she goes up like that she won't spill, then it's goin' to be a good weather for two-thirds of the month."

"You can bank on that, boy. I've been watchin' Luna, as they call her, for thirty years on the roof, and the dip tells the story better than any weather prophet that ever called turns on the weather from headquarters down in Washington."

"Dunder feller, I got a cue on the weather," he continued, "you can tell by the color of the moon whether it's goin' to be a warm or cold rain."

"I don't know much about it, but it's goin' to be a warm rain. If it looks bright and silvery like it's goin' to be a chilly rain."

"You been watchin' Luna, as they call her, up over up Jersey for a number of years, and I haven't found her sign to tell yet." —Philadelphia Inquirer.

News From The County.

Happenings Among the County People as Reported by our Correspondents.

Hillsboro.

Miss Flossie Armstrong, who has been visiting the family of J. W. Wall at Kirkland, has returned home.

Davis Settle and family, of Texas, visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Thomas W. Sutherland filled the Rev. J. A. Sims appointment here Saturday night and preached to a large crowd at Thompsonville Sunday evening.

C. W. Oder bought 22 ewes of Leland Gregory at $2.75 each. He also bought a calf from Captain Settles for $9.

Miss Rena Shewmaker gave this community quite a surprise by leaving a few days ago accompanied by her cousin, Miss Barnes, with the understanding that she was going to visit relatives in Frankfort, Ind. When she reached Louisville she was met by Mr. Bob Gillespie and they were married at once and proceeded to Hot Springs, Ark., where they will make their future home. Miss Shewmaker always stood foremost in the circles of society and had a host of friends throughout the country. She is the only daughter of Mr. F. M. Shewmaker, a prominent farmer of this community. Mr. Gillespie was raised in the Wilkinsburg vicinity and is well known throughout the entire county but recently began running a barber shop at Hot Springs, Ark., where he is doing a good business. Their many friends join us in wishing them a career of unbroken happiness and unalloyed felicity throughout the days and years of their wedlock.

J. H. Settles has rented his farm to C. W. and James Oder, possession to be given the first of the year at which time James Oder will move into the house vacated by Mr. Settles who is contemplating moving to Springfield.

Sam Montgomery and John Sutton, two of our young men who have been "tryin' their fortune" in the West for several months, returned home last week much to the pleasure of their friends especially their best girls who have been longing for their return.

Will Dudgeon, who formerly lived here, has been learning carriage painting and will doubtless open a shop for that purpose in personal property, furniture and interior decorations on income, licenses or franchises, in lieu of an ad valorem tax thereon;

The Fenwick base ball team came over Saturday evening and crossed bats with our boys. It was very plain that the Fenwick boys thought they were going to have a walk over from the way they lined up. A large crowd was out and witnessed one of the most interesting games played here this season. It looked as if the Fenwick boys were not going to get a score but in the last in owing to our pitcher hurt his hand and they succeeded in making 3 scores while our boys made 11 scores during the game. Fenwick has been very anxious to play our boys but it is certain that they will not want to play again soon. The principle feature of the game was the pitching of Cecil Gibbs who played with our boys. He fanned 17 boys in 7 innings. The batteries were Brown and Sharp for Fenwick and Gibble and Brawley for Hillsboro.

The prospects for a good corn crop are very promising. The acreage is very large. The early corn is sufficiently matured as to not require any more rain. Millets and stock peas are good. Potatoes and other garden vegetables are also good.

The new rains have been very beneficial to growing crops of all kinds and in replenishing famished stock ponds and reviving pastures.

In Memoriam.

On the 2d of Sept. 1903, when the lingering rays of summer were cast over the earth and all nature sings a jubilant song, such a day in the beautiful Autumn of the year the spirit of Mrs. Maggie Williams McIlroy left its earthly tabernacle and floated out into the infinity of peace and love with a full consciousness that it was rapidly approaching the "mythic river" and that she would soon add to earthly things with an unwavering heroic faith she calmly met her death, leaving behind a sweet and lasting benediction.

Mrs. McIlroy was 51 years of age and a consistent member of the M. E. church at Mt. Zion, having given herself to the Lord when 17 years old. She had been married seven years and leaves a husband and one little girl. She was a loving companion, a devoted mother and a dutiful daughter. She was confined to her bed 13 long weeks yet she bore her suffering patiently. While we cannot understand this stroke of providence, we know that we shall meet again where all mysteries shall be cleared away. Her life needs no record here but will be indefinitely written in the book of eternity. A very impressive sermon was conducted at the Pleasant Grove church the following day by Rev. Ward. The remains were interred at that cemetery to await the resurrection morn. The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of all.

A Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and relatives who showed us great kindness during the illness and at the time of the death of our dear daughter and sister and to assure them of our heart-felt gratitude for the consolation their loving sympathy afforded us.

Rescue from Drowning.

A big 1500 pound steer belonging to Mr. J. W. Bales who has been buying cattle in this country, met with a very narrow escape from drowning one day last week. The animal had been placed with a lot of other cattle in the stable of Mr. T. W. Simms below town. There is in the stall a well covered over with a plank. It seemed that the steer in a tour of inspection got onto the well covering and it gave way under his weight. The well is quite deep and is also large in diameter and the time contained 18 feet of water. The bovine landed in the water and floated serenely on the surface while some men who had witnessed the accident gave the alarm. A crowd of willing rescuers assembled but no one seemed to know how to proceed until a bright mind proposed the plan of floating him out. Fortunately there is in the vicinity a fire hydrant and the fire hose was brought into requisition and a strong stream of water was pouring into the well. The steer in the meantime floated on the surface of the water like a professional swimmer and as the water gradually rose his steership just kept still and waited. As the water reached the top with the assistance of a few friendly hands the steer gained firm ground and shook his 1500 pounds of beef and calmly trotted off, none the worse for his ducking.

Persons caring for these letter will please say advertised and give date of fist.
